Perry Seeking Office Of Attorney General

State Senator T. Dudley Perry announced Wednesday his candidacy for Attorney General of Alabama.

"I am running a campaign for the people," he said, "I believe the Attorney General should represent the people's interest in every way. He should be a watchdog of their needs every day that he is in office."

Perry led the fight in the State Senate to get relief for the people from fast-rising utility rates of the Alabama Power Co. "As Attorney General, I will continue to look out for the people against the abuses of monopolies which have preyed on our people with constant rate increases," Perry said.

He also has opposed lobbyists who have sought to control the Legislature. "These said lobbyists have attempted to take the rights of the people away from them by their wheeling and dealing with certain members of the Legislature. The AEA has openly attempted to take over the lawmaking powers of our state and is continuing a ruthless attempt to dictate the budget making and lawmaking of our state," Perry said. He added,

"As Attorney General, I will let these lobbyists know there's someone who will look out for the people's government. I have fought hard to restore respect for state government. I have kept myself free from entangling alliances with professional politicians and selfish individuals and interests who seek special favors."

Perry is an attorney, businessman, farmer and lawmaker. He was born in Montgomery 37 years ago. He serves as vice chairman of the Local Government Committee, and on the Judiciary, Constitution and Elections, Education, and Agriculture Committees.

He is a member of the Alabama Cattlemen's Assn., the Alabama Farm Bureau, and is secretary-treasurer of the Macon County Bar Assn. He is an active elder in the Ramsey Memorial Presbyterian Church in Franklin.

Perry is married and has two children. The family lives on a farm in Franklin.

Special Election Jim Folsom Jr. Follows

Set For

Next Tuesday

There will be a special election next Tuesday, July 10, to fill the unexpired term of State Representative Joel Folmar. Folmar resigned in May when he was appointed District Attorney for this two county district by Governor George Wallace. That vacant office was created when DA Lewey Stephens retired from office.

The election will only involve the voters of the upper portion of Coffee County, excluding all of the incorporated cities, plus the entire county of Pike.

There are two candidates in the race for the short three month term. James Ray of Troy was nominated to be the Democratic candidate for the office and Don Walker, also of Troy, was nominated to be the Republican candidate for the office.

Both men have also qualified to run for the September election to serve a full four year term.

Bloodmobile

Visit Nets

116 Pints

The visit to Elba by the Red Cross Bloodmobile recently netted a total of 116 pints of blood, according to Mrs. Olive Ray Martin, who is one of the local organizers of the drive.

Dad Into Politics

One of the most prominent names in Alabama political history -- Folsom -- is back for a serious bid for statewide office.

Jim Folsom, Jr., eldest son of former Governor James E. "Big Jim" Folsom, has launched a full-scale campaign for the Public Service Commission.

In declaring his candidacy recently, young Folsom (29) announced that his campaign will mix a professional attack on soaring public service costs with his family's traditional concern for working people.

"Next to our schools, the Public Service Commission has become 'the most important governmental agency touching the lives of the average family in Alabama,'" Folsom said. "But," he added, "the Commission has not been doing its job. The Governor's audit released last month ranked the Alabama Public Service Commission as one of the worst in the Country."

He said he will continue adding to the burden on our working people. The energy question is only going to get hotter, and we've got to come up with some better answers."

Folsom plans to find these answers by getting public service experts working for the people rather than for the utility companies. "For example," he explains, "when the PSC faces a rate request, it has to count on experts hired by the power company. And you know how that turns out. The people need experts on their side to give us straight information and to propose some workable alternatives. I will see to it that we get and use those experts."

This is the first serious run for public office by Folsom, whose shoe-string voyage into electoral politics in 1976 netted a surprising 20 percent of the vote against incumbent U.S. Congressman Tom Bevill. This time around he has already established a statewide organization with strong support and campaign help. And he has taken a leave-of-absence without pay from his job as a public relations representative in Florence in order to campaign fulltime for the PSC.

The young candidate, who was born in Montgomery and has lived in Culman most of his life, was honorably discharged from military service in 1969 and is a 1974 graduate, with a BA in political science and history, from Jacksonville State University. A member of Culman's First Baptist Church, he is married to the former Marsha Guthrie of Culman, daughter of former state representative John Guthrie.

A thoughtless word can spoil the game

Friday, one of our readers, Peggy Mitchell, dropped by with a poem entitled "Just A Little Boy."

Parents, grandparents and others who have someone they care about on the many teams now participating in ball games at our excellent Johnson Park facilities or anywhere else can identify a little with this poem, because it deals with a subject close to the heart.

There should be enthusiasm on the part of everyone for a sports event—the participant as well as the spectator. But, let us not forget that one of the purposes of the sport is to teach our youngsters good sportsmanship.

This poem was printed in the Andalusia Star-News some years back and since that time, the title might well be revised to read "Just A Little Boy or Girl." If you have been one guilty of tossing out cruel harassment or a thoughtless jab to a youngster during a sporting event, think of the lesson this poem reveals.

Just A Little Boy
He stands at the plate with his heart pounding fast;
The bases are loaded; the die has been cast.
Mom and Dad cannot help him; he stands all alone.
A hit at this moment would send the teams home.

The ball nears the plate; he swings and he misses;
There's a groan from the crowd, with some boos and some hisses.
A thoughtless voice cries, "Strike out the bum."
Tears fill his eyes; the game's no longer fun.

Remember, he's just a little boy who stands all alone.
So open your heart and give him a break.
For it's moments like this a man you can make.

Keep this in mind when you hear someone forget
He's just a little boy and not a man, yet.

—Just A Concerned Mother.

New Brockton Folks Support Heart Fund

The funds were raised in the recent Heart Fund Drive. $156.00 was collected from the New Brockton High School's Student Government Association's Cyclethon coordinated by SGA President Gloria Simmons; $159.00 was raised from the road block headed by Peggy Roberts; $30.00 was contributed by Miss Thompson's Reading Class; and $374.59 was raised by the door-to-door Community Drive in New Brockton.

Bethany, Rocky Head and Calvary. In all, Walker and Powell were very pleased with the New Brockton drive which was the most successful one since the Heart Fund began raising funds in New Brockton.

Identification Of Voters Completed

The re-identification of the voters of Coffee County has been completed by the Coffee Board of Registrars in accordance with Act number 548 of the 1976 Alabama Legislature as approved August 18, 1976.

The intent of re-identification in any county is both necessary and good in order that the names of all persons who are deceased or nonresidents of the county, or have otherwise become disqualified from voting shall be removed from the poll lists and that the name of each voter shall appear only on the list of qualified electors for the year in which he resides.

There has been published in the paper a list of those names that have been removed by the registrars. We have the list and if you're not sure whether or not you have re-identified just call 347-2688 in Enterprise or 897-2211 in Elba and make certain.

If you haven't re-identified just come by the Probate Office and do so by completing the re-identification form. This can be done any time during regular office hours at either courthouse.

You are urged to take care of this matter immediately in as much as we'll be participating in four different elections in the next four months. We want everyone to be able to vote in all of the elections. Come in now and re-identify if you haven't.

CITY COUNCIL TO MEET TUESDAY

NIGHT, JULY 11

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

For two weeks we've commented in this column about the need for lots to build houses. This means lots with water, sewage, paved and gutted streets. Now, all of a sudden, we get reports of three property owners that are planning such action. One property owner sat in our office Thursday and detailed a plan for extensive development of property within the city limits. Another reported his timetable for having some out-of-town experts plan his housing lot development. If this takes place, there will be plenty of lots for people to build on, in Elba.

This week is the final week for candidates to qualify for the 1978 elections. Some races have been flooded (Lt. Governor is one), while others seem to be forgotten. A friend in Birmingham was calling us about something or other last week and predicted a rush of candidates before the Friday deadline. He is supposed to know these things, but we weren't entirely convinced. Another prediction of one of two major surprises will show up and change a bunch of guessing about the outcome of races!

I have several times noted my support for Albert Brewer in the race for Governor. Most of my discussions with him and those close to him have centered around his plans for a short, intense campaign because the people are not interested in weeks and weeks of standing in the hot sun to hear political promises. Well, judging by the turnout for the rallies by both the candidates and civic clubs, he is right. It appears that most of the people at the rallies are candidates or their workers, all politicking each other from one rally to another.

My school-age son has a birthday this weekend and Papa is using all this stuff about doing things with your children as an excuse to take him on a three-day fishing trip. Now, we are not expecting to catch a whole bunch of fish, but just in case we do, we will have more than one ice chest to keep them from spoiling! My preacher keeps dropping some very strong hints about giving him a mess of fish to offset some of the bad things I do, but he has not convinced me that my wrong doings are bad enough to dress the fish, also, and he will not have them any other way!

Saturday afternoon I was driving during all the bad weather. At one time the lightning struck right close by, because for an instant, the light was so bright I couldn't see, and the frying sound of electricity was all around me. When I could see, there was a ball of light a bit larger than a basketball rolling down a nearby powerline. Needless to say, I mentally went over all the warnings of the best place to be during a thunderstorm, and ended up pretty sure that being in an automobile, I should stay there.

The strike in Memphis, Tennessee, by the firefighters was regretful. Now there are charges of arson and tampering with firefighting equipment being passed around about the striking firefighters. We have said it before and say it again - it is bad enough to have repeated reports of crooked leadership in national union leadership, but there will never be open embracement of union causes by outsiders as long as the unions are credited with such actions, regardless of how small the percentage of wrongdoers is in a particular case.

James E. "Big Jim" Folsom gave us a rerun of what he said was his platform when he was first elected town mayor and noted it was still his platform. He noted we had called his entry into the Governor's race a surprise, and agreed it was a surprise to the news media and to the politicians, but it was no surprise move to him, because he had been planning the race for some time.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Ferrin,
Appreciate the picture in the Elba Clipper. We, the Class of '56, had a good time talking over old times. Once again, thanks!
ED D. HOOD KELLEY

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following names were left off the list of those who attended the reunion: Grover Jacobs, Montgomery, AL; Mary Spinks Grider, Elba; and Bobby Joe Johnson, Andalusia. Mary Cowen Flagg was wrongly listed as "Cowen Flagg."

Dear Sir:

I felt like I should sit down this summer and thank some of the people of our community for their time and efforts spent on me when I was growing up. I'm talking about the Robert Cooper's who took their time out for the Scouting when the other men were just too busy. The Bo Dunaway's and the Farrell Hudson's and the Jimmy Hudson's and the Shorty Martins that took their time to show me how to count the logs on a grounder and get under a fly ball.

I can remember hearing criticism of the way things were done. I can still hear it now when I'm in the stands watching a little league game, but I don't sit there and criticize out of respect for those who have the heart to coach these young boys.

I realize now what a thankless job all those people had, but all they get from me is respect. There's a whole generation of graduates out there - now from the C. D. Harrison School of Baseball, or Robert Cooper School of Scouting, or Jimmy Hudson Baseball Clinic. We not only learned Baseball and scouting, we learned civic pride, citizenship and character. I say thank you!

A PROUD ELBA MAN

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE WILL REMEMBER

By Congressman Philip M. Crane, Chairman American Conservative Union

Was the passage of the Panama Canal treaties an outrageous insult to the American people? Decide for yourself after thinking how it makes America look. Just minutes after the treaties ratified the Panama Canal dictator Omar Torrijos stated: "Today the Canal was placed with in two votes of being destroyed. Tomorrow we would have started our struggle for the liberation and possibly tomorrow the Canal would not be operating any more."

To have our foreign policy dictated by another country is a disgrace to our Nation; to be perceived as weak by the Soviet Union, not to mention the rest of the world, is a serious detriment to our national security; to be subjected to such diplomatic maneuverings and political payoffs is an insult to the American people.

All of the President's foreign policy decisions seem to signal our retreat from global responsibility. He has cancelled production of the B-1 bomber, without obtaining a similar concession from the Soviets. He has cut the production of the Minuteman III, and possibly will also halt the neutron bomb. At the same time, the Soviets continue to devote a major portion of their resources to defense spending and have been modernizing every major component of its military forces.

If we are to remain a strong world power second to none, we will need to reverse this dangerous trend before our fate is decided. Yet the Carter Administration has done nothing to alter the decline of our American defense. The Senate action in ratifying the Panama Canal treaties is a reinforcement of this image of weakness. What is most appalling about the Senate vote on the treaties is the shameful way that the elected representatives of the people so cavalierly dismissed the views of their constituents. As Chairman of the American Conservative Union - the leading organization fighting the ratification of these treaties - I have been able to observe first hand the deep feelings of resentment and opposition to the Panama pacts.

Will the voters forget about it in a couple of years? It is my view that the voters will not forget and that the Senators who voted for passage of the treaties will pay for their vote come election day. If this happens, we may yet see restoration of government of the people, by the people and for the people.

Let us hope that the final tally of history will show that even if the American people were in the losing column on this occasion, in the long run their interests were served through the rediscovery that in a self-governing Republic, public officials are servants and the citizenry their masters.

Get The Facts

By Louise Stokes
South Central Alabama
Regional Alcoholism Council

The drinker goes through different phases in the progress of alcoholism. In many instances this is an intangible process. At the beginning of the disease, the time that separates the ordinary drinker from the alcoholic is very thin.

In the first phase, or the contact phase, the drinker discovers the desirable effects of alcohol. It makes him feel good, relaxes him, gets rid of tension. For others it might relieve shyness, feelings of inferiority, and makes him "one of the crowd." This is as far as many people go with their drinking.

For the others, who may later develop alcoholism, there are warning signals. Probably

Views From The Pressbox

By Ricky Mulaz, Sports Editor

The search for a new basketball coach at Elba High is underway and I've heard that a couple of pretty successful coaches have expressed an interest in the job. Among the names mentioned to me was that of one of the top coaches in Georgia, who has led his teams to several state titles. I hope we get a good coach who can take charge and make Elba a basketball power.

The Men's Softball League has only two weeks left before the District Tournament in Enterprise, and I think Elba's got a good chance to have a couple of teams in the state tournament. Hardy's Construction, The People's Bank, Cook Chevrolet and Wise's all have good shots at earning a trip to Lagoon Park, and the Hospital and Brundidge both have teams capable of winning a state berth. The District Tourney is set for July 20, 21 and 22, and I urge all softball fans to go out and support the Elba teams!

Speaking of softball, the "Big Boys" return to Montgomery's Lagoon Park next weekend (July 14, 15 and 16) for a Super Six-Pitch Tourney. Included among the entries are Ken Sanders, Ford, Nelson Paint, Howard and Carroll, Howard Furniture, Carolina A's and many others. If you've never seen these big teams in action, you should make plans to go up and see 'em in action.

There seems to be a fact brewing between hunters and trappers in the state. The hunters have been complaining the traps are dangerous to their dogs and that the "Metal Mouths" just weren't sporting! The Conservation Department ruled last week that the trapper cannot use a leg-holding trap without direct permission of the landowner. Chaff up round one to the hunters!

In another hunting related move, the Advisory Board voted to change the liberal limit on raccoons. The new limit is one coon per hunter and two per party. It looks like the coon hunters will have to find something else to do all night long.

It's time to go to a picnic, so that's all for now.....

Independents Win Tourney

The Elba Independents swept through five games undefeated to win first place in the Woodland Grove Invitational Softball Tournament held last weekend. The Independents defeated Kleinert's 14-13, Woodland Grove 20-3, New Brockton 7-2, New Hope 21-3, and Hospital Rd. to win the beautiful 5 feet high trophy presented to tourney champion.

Hospital placed second, New Hope finished third and Woodland Grove was awarded the Sportsmanship Trophy.

Omega Convention

Wilma Anderson of Elba attended the 42nd Biennial Convention of the Chi Omega Fraternity. The convention was held at The Greenbrier Hotel, White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia on June 22-25. Wilma, president of the Huntington College chapter of Chi Omega was one of approximately 750 who attended. Also representing the Huntington chapter were Miss Renee Chasey of Canton, Ala., and Mrs. Helen Morrison of Montgomery, Ala. Mrs. Chasey was the chapter advisor. Leadership training sessions were held for active and alumnae delegates and advisors.

Senator Margaret Chase Smith, former senator of Maine and recipient of the National Achievement Award of Chi Omega, was the honored speaker at the banquet. She spoke of attaining life goals - the cause of fraternity in developing leadership and citizenship, and achieving self-actualization.

Chi Omega has 134,500 members, has 169 active chapters in 40 states. All collegiate chapters have service projects and all alumnae chapter sponsor a project which benefits a need in their community.

Jack Brunson Named To Advisory Board

First Federal Savings and Loan Association of the Wiregrass has announced the election of J. R. "Jack" Brunson to its Advisory Board of Directors. First Federal was organized in Elba in 1959 and moved its operation to Enterprise in 1963. The twenty-one million dollar savings and loan operates offices in Enterprise and Troy.

Brunson, of 192 Pine Circle, Elba, is president of National Security Insurance Company and National Security Fire and Casualty Company both of Elba. He has been associated with the insurance company since 1953 and became president in January of this year following the death of his brother, W. L. Brunson, who preceded him as chief executive officer. He is also a director of the Elba Exchange Bank, National Security Fire and Casualty Company, and Nasco.

A former mayor of the city of Elba, Brunson has served as chairman of the Elba Water and Electric Board. He is past instructor for the Dale Carnegie courses and served in the U.S. Army. Brunson is married to the former Edna Allen of Troy. They have three children, Jackie, Edna, and Barry. He is a 1953 graduate of the University of Alabama.

State Political Races Attract Host Of Candidates

When Gov. George Wallace announced he would not be a candidate for public office for the first time in decades, many thought the upcoming election would lack the "spark" associated with a Wallace campaign. Well, the spark is out, but not because of lack of interest. The spark was doused when Wallace's retirement opened with "floodgates" for politicians hoping to move into the Governor's Mansion.

Qualifying for the two major parties ended on Friday, July 7, and the race for governor had attracted 13 Democrats and 3 Republicans. The biggest surprise entry came when Cornelia Wallace qualified. A last minute qualifier, the Governor's former wife stated her entry would give the race the "excitement" it lacked. Another mild surprise came with the entry of former Gov. Still contending that James did not comply with party rules in changing parties.

The other republican candidate is Virginia Walster of Huntsville. The Attorney General's race attracted 9 hopefuls—Julian McPhillips of Montgomery, Sen. Joe Fine of Russellville, Rep. Douglas Johnson of Mobile, and Ralph "Shorty" Price of Phenix City, District Attorney Charles Graddock of Mobile, Bill Stephens of Montgomery, Sen. Dudley Perry of Tuskegee, Ray Acton of Montgomery, District Attorney Ted Taylor of Prattville, Earl "Choo Choo" Gavis of Mobile and Gene Myracle of Gadsden.

For the first time since the U. S. Constitution was changed in 1901, Alabama voters will elect two members to the U. S. Senate at the same election. Seven Democrats and one Republican qualified for each of the two seats that will be vacant, one due to the retirement of Sen. John Sparkman after 32 years and the other by the death of Sen. Jim Allen on June 1.

Sparkman's Senate seat is being sought by Democrats—Sen. John Baker of Rainville, Mrs. Frank E. Stewart of Piedmont, U. S. Rep. Walter Flowers of Tuscaloosa, Chief Justice Howell Heflin of Tusculum, Gordon Tucker of Montgomery, McDaniel "Mac" Newton of Dothan and Glen Hewitt of Huntsville.

Popular GOP leader Jim Martin is the lone Republican seeking Sparkman's seat. Mrs. Maryon Allen, who was appointed last month to fill her late husband's seat is a candidate for the remaining

Bill Waldon Is Candidate For Coffee County Sheriff

"I felt four years ago, and still feel, that I am well-qualified for the position as sheriff of Coffee County," said Bill Waldon of Elba.

Waldon feels the Sheriff's Office is a very important part of a county's government, and the department should not only maintain law and order, but should also be available to give a helping hand to any citizen in time of need.

Waldon has worked as a police officer, and at present, is an Elba businessman.

He is a native of Coffee County, reared in Fairview Community. He has been a resident of Elba for 10 years. He now serves as Assistant Chief on the Elba Volunteer Fire Department, and as Lieutenant on the Elba Volunteer Rescue Squad.

He is married to the former Frances Hudson, also of the Fairview Community. They have two daughters—Dottie, 16, a student at Elba High School, and Sheri, 10, a student at Elba Middle School.

Matthews Is Mrs. Drinkwater Wants Not Candidate Tax Assessor's Office For Office

Fonell "Matt" Matthews announced this week he had withdrawn as a candidate for Tax Collector of Coffee County. A native of Enterprise, Mrs. Drinkwater graduated from Enterprise High School. She is married to Robert Drinkwater and they have one daughter, Karen, age 16.

Mrs. Drinkwater stated she entered the race because the tax assessor's office "interested me and I wanted to give the people a choice in the election."

"I am very interested in seeing that everybody receives a fair and reasonable tax assessment on their property. I would like to see the workings of the courthouse and the only way you can do that is get in it," said Mrs. Drinkwater.

"It intrigues me to see how county government works. I believe I can be of benefit to the county."

Mrs. Linda Drinkwater, of Enterprise, has qualified to seek the Democratic nomination for Tax Assessor of Coffee County in the Sept. 5 primary. FOR HOUSE DISTRICT 68

Ray Triumphant In Election

Democrat James Ray has won Tuesday's special election to fill the unexpired term of 68 House of Representatives seat vacated by Joel Folmar, who was appointed District Attorney for Pike and Coffee Counties.

Ray defeated Republican Don Walker for the right to serve during the upcoming special session of the Alabama Legislature. Both men are candidates for a full term, and will again face the voters, beginning with the September 5th primaries, and will probably clash head-on in the November general election. Ray polled 185 of the Coffee County votes while Walker polled only 39 in the county. District 68 is composed of Pike and portions of Barbour, Bullock and Coffee counties.

Reports late Tuesday night gave Ray a total of 2282 votes while Walker 1596. There were still three boxes to be counted, but these didn't contain enough votes to change the results of the election.

Reserve Unit To Make Local Surveys

Members of the 40th Civil Affairs Group, an Army Reserve unit headquartered in Anatolia, will be surveying communities in seven counties during its two weeks of annual training which began July 9. The 40th will be assisting the Southeast Alabama Regional Planning and Development Commission in surveys that will cover 39 communities, including Elba. They will perform sewer and water surveys and other work in Elba.

"Today's economic situation dictates that the military and civilian sectors wisely use the resources available," said a spokesman for the civil affairs unit. "While our unit is receiving mission-oriented training, the SEARADC and the towns it serves will be receiving important information that will provide long-range benefits for community planning," the spokesman added.

Fuller is grateful for the opportunity he has had to serve the wonderful boys and girls of Coffee County. In announcing his candidacy,

Mr. Fuller makes the following statement to the citizens of Coffee County: "Without the assistance of the citizens of our great county, these improvements would have been impossible. We cannot, however, be satisfied now and stop our efforts. Many tasks still remain to be accomplished, and we must all dedicate ourselves to a successful resolution of these problems. I wish to assure the citizens of Coffee County that if re-elected, I will, with God's help, continue my efforts in seeking continued progress for the Coffee County School System. Our children deserve no less than our best efforts."
